HOW TO CURE CONSUMPTION.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF DR. SCHENCK'S GREAT MEDICINES.—Will people never learn to know that a diseased liver and stomach necessarily disease the entire system? The plainest principles of common sense teach this and yet there are hundreds who ridicule the idea, and continue in the course which almost inevitably brings them prematurely to the grave. Living as the majority of the people do, at complete variance with the laws of nature, it must be apparent to all that, sooner or later, nature will revenge herself. Hence we find that persons who indulge to excess in the use of very rich or indigestible food or intoxicating drinks, invariably pay a heavy penalty in the end. The stomach becomes disordered and refuses to act: the liver fails to perform its functions, dyspepsia and its attendant evils follow, and still the suffering individuals persist in clinging to the thoroughly exploded idea of the past. Dr. SCHENK'S medicines are recommended to all such. They bring sure and certain relief wherever they are used as directed, and all that is necessary to establish their reputation with every ailing man or woman in the landis a fair and impartial trial of them. Let those who are skeptical on this point, and who have permitted interested persons to prejudice them against these now celebrated remedies for consumption, discard their prejudices, and be governed by the principles of reason and common sense. If the system is disordered depend upon it, in nine cases out of ten the seat of the disorder will be found in the stomach and liver. To cleanse and invigorate the stomach and to stimulate the liver to healthy action, use

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.—The daily increasing demand for these pills in the best evidence of their value. Thousands upon thousands of boxes are sold daily. Why? Simply because they act promptly and efficiently Invalids who may not find it convenient to call on Dr. SCHENCK in person are informed that full and complete directions for use accompany each package of the MANDRAKE PILLS, PULMONIC SYRUP AND SEAWEED TONIC.—These medicines will cure consumption unless the lungs are so far gone that the patient is entirely beyond the reach of medical relief.

It may be asked by those who are not familiar with the virtues of these great remedies, "How do Dr. Schenck's medicines effect their wonderful cures of consumption?"

The answer is a simple one. They begin their work of restoration by bringing the stomach, liver and bowels into an active healthy condition. It is food that cures this formidable disease. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS act on the liver and stomach, promoting healthy secretion, and removing the bile and slime which have resulted from the inactive or torpid condition of those organs, and of the system generally. This sluggish state of the body, and the consequent accumulation of the unhealthy substances named prevent the proper digestion of food, and, as a natural consequence creates disease, which results in prostration and finally in death.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP and SEAWEED TONIC, when taken regularly, mingle with the food, and the digestive organs, make good and rich blood, and as a natural consequence, give flesh and strength to the patient. Let the faculty say what it may, this is the only true cure for consumption. Experience has proved beyond the shadow of a doubt, and thousands are to-day alive and well who a few years since were regarded as hopeless cases, but who were induced to try Dr. SCHENCK'S remedies, and were restored to permanent health by their use.

One of the first steps the physician should take with a consumptive patient is to invigorate the system. Now how is this to be done? Certainly not by giving medicines that exhaust and enervate—medicines that impair instead of improve the functions of the digestive organs Doctor SCHENCK'S medicines cleanse the stomach and bowels of all substances which are calculated to irritate or weaken them. They create an appetite—promote healthful digestion—make good blood, and, as a consequence, they invigorate and strengthen the entire system and more especial ly those parts which are diseased If this cannot be done, then the case must be regarded as a hopeless one.

If the physician finds it impossible to make a patient feel hungry, if the deceased person cannot partake of good nourishing food and properly digest it, it is impossible that he can gain in flesh and strength; and it is equally impossible to bring a patient to this condition so long as the liver is burdened with diseased bile, and the stomach laden with unhealthy slime.

Almost the first request made to the physician by a consumptive patient is that he will prescribe medicines that will allay the cough, night sweats and chills, which are the sure attendants on consumption. But this should not be done, as the cough is only an effort of nature to relieve itself, and the night sweats and chills are caused by the diseased lungs. The remedies ordinarily prescribed do more harm than good. They impair the functions of the stomach, impede healthy digestion, and aggravate rather than cure the disease.

There is, after all, nothing like facts which to substantiate a position, and it is upon fac's that Dr. Schenck's relies. Nearly all who have taken his medicines in accordance with his directions have not only been cured of consumption, but, from the fact that these medicines act with wonderful power upon the digestive organs, patients thus cured speedily gain flesh. Cleansing the system of all impurities, they lay the foundation for a solid, substantial structure. Restoring these organs to health, they create an appetite. The food is properly assimilated the quantity of blood is not only increased, but is made rich and strong and in the face of such a condition of the system all disease must be banished.

Full directions accompany each of the medicines, so that it is not absolutely necessary that patients should see Dr SCHENCK personally, unless they desire to have their lungs examined. For this purpose he is at his office, No 15 North Sixth St., corner of Commerce, Phila., every Saturday, from 9 A. M. until 1 P. M.

Advice is given without charge, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5.

HAVE PATIENCE.

A youth and maid, one winter night,
Were sitting in the corner;
His name, we're told, was Joshua White,
And hers was Patience Warner.

Not much the pretty maiden said,
Beside the young man sitting;
Her cheeks were flushed a rosy red,
Her eyes bent on her knitting.

Nor could he guess what thoughts of him
Were to her bosom flocking,
As her fair fingers, swift and slim,
Flew round and round the stocking.

While as for Joshua, bashful youth,
His words grew few and fewer;
Though all the time, to tell the truth,
His chair edged nearer to her.

Meantime the ball of yarn gave out,
She knit so fast and steady,
And he must give his aid, no doubt,
To get another ready.

He held the skein; of course the thread
Got tangled, snarled and twisted;
"Have Patience!" cried the artless maid,
To him who her assisted.

Good chance was that for tongue-tied churl,
To shorten all palaver;
"Have Patience!" cried he, "dearest girl!
And may I really have her?"

The deed was done; no more that night,
Clicked needles in the corner;
And she is Mrs. Joshua White
That once was Patience Warner.

Music Vale.

SALEM, CONN., July 8, 1870.

The parting injunction of many of my friends was "Write to us when you get to Music Vale and tell us just the truth." Now that I have reached the Mecca and find I cannot have leisure to write to every one separately, I write this for all and write "just the truth."

In Yankeedom. I knew it the moment my feet touched the land. The people look different, talk different and are different from us. A pushing, jostling, energetic, through-going people, and yet I see no care-worn faces.—They do a great deal in a short time; not a moment is lost. This promptness, this punctuality—without hurry—takes away much of the weariness of labor. I have not yet seen a Yankee with so sad a face that could not enjoy a joke and make one. 'Tis their activity, genial nature and love of fun that scatters little flower-wreaths everywhere along the rugged and jutted highway of action, and brightens the sombre woof of duty with dimples of sunshine. Now, no one loves the old Keystone State better than I, and I don't believe I shall ever love any other place so well, but I don't think the people here get so tired as we do—tired mentally and physically, and I think the charm is in their doing a thing at once, and their strict attention to order. It is not to-morrow with them, it is now. By this indefatigable Yankee promptness, they manage to get things done with less worry, less hurry, and more thoroughly done. All through the country one sees an air of neatness in the arrangement of grounds and architecture; but I see no beautiful fields stretching out for miles as I do at home. No wealth of golden grain bending down before the rich sunlight. The tillage of the ground is not the work for these people; their genius, talents and propensities call for other avocations and resources, of which the country is prolific. But I do not intend to contrast the customs and character of these people with those of our own. I want to tell you of Music Vale.

It is a most delightful drive of eleven miles from Norwich to the Vale.—The road is bordered on either side by the most picturesque scenery, which is but a faint promise of the beauty of the fairy realm to which it leads. We arrived at the Vale at a moment that greatly enhanced the beauty of the scene. The royal, golden gleams of the setting sun threw such a halo of sheeny splendor over the vision, that I silently exclaimed, "The half was not told me!" On first seeing this Eden, the delicious feeling of freedom and rest cannot be described. The very air imparts new life, vigor and energy; we say at once, "Amid the beauty, the sweetness, the freshness of this retreat, we shall be happy!" It seems as though it were a sort of realm of its own, pendant midway of Celestian and Terrestia, surrounded by music, poetry and flowers, and we thought we saw everywhere a "Welcome to Music Vale!"

Then followed our introductions to the Professor. Was ever a being so much surprised? We have ever had but one type of a Professor in our mind's eye: tall, gaunt, stern, cold and repelling; a man to fear alone. But our Professor is none such. Not tall, rather corpulent, past threescore, yet retaining to a marvelous degree the activity, the buoyancy, the enthusiasm of youth. A genial face that lights up with the sunniest smile, and possessing an inexhaustible fund of good humor; with a heart of kindness and goodness for his pupils, eager and anxious to promote their happiness; honest and earnest in his efforts at teaching, and having them thoroughly taught. He has the faculty of commanding the most profound respect towards himself, and the most perfect obedience to rules, yet without wearing that habitual look of sternness that Professors generally do. Strict! You have no idea what Yankee strictness means! There is no shirking the rules, as we can do in some schools. One may just as well fall pleasantly and quietly into the line, for recalcitration is surely followed by expulsion from the Garden of Eden. Harmony, Order and Obedience is the law. The Faculty being abundantly blest with this world's goods, teach not so much for the pecuniary compensation as from their devotion to the art, and the desire to impart to others the thorough knowledge of music they possess, so that the pupils in their turn may be competent to teach, and thus perpetuate the advantages peculiar to this Institution.

A wilder, more romantic site for a Seminary cannot be conceived than this. Circled by dark woods, rocks, fairy cascades, exquisite lakes, lovely brooks, ferns, mosses, and flowers; and on Saturday afternoon and Sabbath it is so quiet, so calm, so dreamlike, that one loses their sense of the real, and lives only the soul-life, forgetting that the clamor and din of the world's warfare still goes on. But this dream is short: Monday morning the untiring gong wakes us to duty and action, and it is action sure! Four hours per day for Piano practice, two for Guitar, one for Theory, one for Rehearsal, and one for Thorough-bass. Think of that, ye idlers of time! And yet we have time for recreation. "How do we manage?" Why, simply, we must be on hand the moment the gong of the bell is heard; we dare not delay. After all, this is the secret of success. How much one can crowd in a day if a certain amount of time is given to each task!

The building is large, neat, and has all the modern conveniences; can accommodate a great number of pupils. The ground is adorned with all that is tasteful and pleasing, and provided with means for recreation; in a word, Music Vale is a home, where we find so much happiness and so much to do that we cannot regret the dear homes left behind, as we have done at some schools.

Examination was held the 23d of June. Of course everybody was here. We being a novice had nothing to do but enjoy ourself. A committee of men—the best judges of music—are always appointed to criticise. We wish you could have seen the fair inmates of Music Vale—lovely and eager with enthusiasm—who are so thoroughly trained as to play before a critical audience without the least embarrassment.

The German method is taught, and of course is different from the style of playing elsewhere. It is an independent action of the fingers. The power given to the performance is due alone to the action of the fingers; no strength is derived from the arm. Great attention is paid to fingering, and the position of the body. One wonders how it is possible for delicate females and children to acquire sufficient strength in the fingers alone, to execute that which they do with such perfect ease and freedom. How awkward and inelegant the violent motion of the arm and body we see everywhere else, compared with the graceful, bird-like movement of the fingers here; which must be acquired. Well I cannot tell you all about Examination. My letter is growing too lengthy. Suffice to say all enjoyed it, and the day's exercises ended with a superb supper at 2 A. M.

"Did we have any flirtations?" Not much! A seraglio is not more carefully guarded than we. We had the pleasure of gazing at the handsome faces of the youth, but we didn't care to converse. We can endure this for a year, considering the musical knowledge we get, instead of smiles and bows and "words lighter than thistle-down."

Now let me say to all who desire a musical education, come to Music Vale! For the study of Theory and Vocal Music alone, it is worth a year of time and money. Music is taught, and not a smattering of it. Many young ladies that are taught elsewhere can dash off a great many brilliant pieces, and impress those who are not so critical with the idea that they know a great deal, when really their knowledge is superficial, and they know nothing of Theory and the elementary rules. Here it is not so much in the number of pieces we can execute, at the close of the term, but to do what we do, well; to pay the strictest regard to the keeping of time, to possess a thorough knowledge of the theory, as well as to execute it. Thus the foundation is laid to a sure success, and the pupil is competent to teach anywhere, as well as to progress herself. Then again I say, if you desire a thorough musical education, if you want a home surrounded by the purest and sweetest influences, if you want to revel in the midst of the most enchanting scenery—then come to Music Vale.

"GIPSY WILDE."

Letter from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 25th, 1870.

Dear Globe:—(Wait a moment until I wipe "these" brow.) "I am here" Vede Lagudier—and I wish I was not, for this is the Champion Hot location. As I write, a rumor obtains credence on the street that his Satanic Majesty has arranged for the removal of his Empire to our City. Should this be so—(and I see no reason to doubt it—for one hears innumerable times a day such comparison made) doubtless our locals will teem with "Democratic revenge;" "Devilish Cruelty;" "Fiendish Outrage,"—think what an acception of "bad spirits" our volunteer firemen would receive. Many of the "old Boys" wouldn't recognize the revolution made since their day—the dear old machine which was "resolved to be painted red" gone and a puffing, blowing steamer in its stead. Bad has been the behavement of the "Boys" lately, and a growing desire to do away with the volunteer, and substitute a paid department is manifested. Since seeing the admirable working of the paid Department of New York I cannot hesitate to bear testimony to its entire superiority. When you get your steam engine where do you intend having your first fire? You must have a fire you know; if you have not any talent in that way send to Altoona—they understand it perfectly. It is almost too hot to think, and I am bothering my brain to find subject matter for this letter—and must confess I am almost stumped.—We have been doing the military lately, having had "the famous New York 7th Regiment" and the "Crack" 5th Maryland as visitors. Philadelphia unanimously decides in favor of the Maryland 5th, believing they equal, if not excel in drill. Know that as gentlemen and soldiers, no comparison can be made; the 7th behaved badly here and at Cape May the 5th in a manner that won universal praise.—Your townsman, Capt. W. K. Burchinell should have been here; had he, I am afraid our "Independent Company" would have had many an additional drill. Such magnificent movements as we witnessed are certainly worthy of imitation.

Our volunteers have been spurred to additional effort to render comparison possible between them and our late visitors. What a blessing we have a Park to flee to in such weather. Our City Fathers deserve credit for the laudable manner they have sought to strengthen the hands of our Park Commission. We are proud of our Park So should we be if the same taste be displayed as has been for some years to come. Why it will be simply grand if we could only have a few breakers and a gentle taste of sea breeze; then would we be envied of all earth's people. The city, as a city, is dull; no amusements—no theatre open—but "Foxes"—and I am free to say my taste don't run that way; loud women, vulgar negro delineators, mechanical dances and a straining to be funny, make up a treat that I respectfully decline. More people out of town than ever was known by the oldest inhabitant. Don't wonder at it. Wish I could go and do likewise. But business, (poverty's best excuse,) I urge for non compliance with excellent inclination. "Our fight mit Soigle" inhabitants drink beer and gesticulate violently, consigning Ma Belle France to destruction, and promise to help forward the consignment. My opinion is, it is easier to fight France with Resolutions than Bullets, and in Philadelphia on the Rhine. Of course our Press with few exceptions go for Prussia, reason: the German vote is a large one, "a balance of power" our politicians are as anxious to obtain, as the mighty Nations marshaling their forces to make good their claim to such balance in Europo.

As soon as it possible to write with comfort, I am yours to command.

A MOTHER'S GIFT.—There is something sublime associated with the most insignificant gift or token that a mother may present her child. The gift may be some almost valueless texture—worthless to him who knows not its history—but the one for whom it was intended sees in it a remembrance of olden times, wanders back to the theatre of little incidents in earlier days, and by the memento is reminded of blissful recollections which even adversity has been unable to erase from his mental tablet. The boy too often forgets the parent who adores him; his ambition leads him away from the fond maternal thoughts that should ever be his brightest imagories. With the mother the case is widely dissimilar; her thoughts are ever with the wandering one; her greatest aspirations in reality her only ones in many cases, are coupled with the name and career of her boy. No chill, save that of death, can ever congeal the transparent fount from which a mother's adoration flows on to gladden her child. No mandate but God's—and he never issued an unnatural one—can still the restless affections that nestle around a mother's heart. A gift from a cherished friend brings with it a key that unlocks our tenderest feelings; it opens portals that the benefactions of pomp and glitter could never reach; but a mother's gift to her child conveys an import that has a heavenly impress upon it.

☞A German who had not paid much attention to learning English, had a horse stolen the other night, whereupon he advertised as follows: "Von nite, de oder day, von I was bin awake in my sleep, I hear something vat I tinks vas not yust right in my barn, and I yust out shumps to bed and runs mit de barn out; and ven I vas dere coom, I secz dat my pig gray iron mare, he vos been tide loose and run mit de stable off; an ever whoo vill him back bring, I yust so much pay him as vat bin kushtomary."

☞A correspondent of a daily paper writes: 'To see Niagara, you buy eleven silk dresses for your wife, and six shirts for yourself. You then get all the ready money you have, borrow all your friends have, and make arrangements for unlimited credit at two or three good solvent banks. Wonderful Sagacity of a Dog.

The following story, strange as it may appear, is vouched for by several witnesses, whose testimony is unimpeachable:

A short time ago a female Newfoundland dog was in the habit of coming to the house of a lady in this city who would throw to it pieces of cold meat, which the dog would eat, and, having satisfied its hunger, go away again. So confirmed did this habit become, that at a certain hour every day the lady would expect the dog, and the animal would put in an appearance.—A few days ago, before feeding her, the lady sadly said to her, "Why don't you bring me one of your puppies?" repeating the question several times as she stood at the window, the dog looking her in the face with an expression of intelligence as if it understood every word the lady said. The next day, to the lady's astonishment, at the usual hour, the dog returned, and behold! was accompanied by a little puppy.

The lady fed both dogs and then took up the puppy into the window, when the old dog scampered off and did not return for three days. At the end of that time the dog again appeared, when, after feeding it, the lady said, "next time bring all your puppies, I want to see them;" and the next morning, sure enough, the dog returned, accompanied by three Newfoundland pups. Several of the neighbors saw the whole transaction, and declared that they considered this one of the most wonderful proofs of the sagacity of the dog they have ever known. Where the dog came from, or to whom it belongs, is not known, but we have the name of the lady and also of those who were eye-witnesses to the occurrences as narrated by us. —Reading Journal.

THE GULF STREAM.—There is a river in the ocean. In the severest drouths it never fails; in the mightiest floods it never overflows. Its banks and its bottom are of cold water, while its current is of warm. The Gulf of Mexico is its fountain, and its mouth is the Arctic seas. It is the Gulf Stream.—There is in the world no other so majestic a flow of water. Its current is more rapid than the Mississippi or the Amazon, and its volume more than a thousand times greater than either of those rivers. Its waters, so far out as the Carolina coast, are indigo blue.—They are so distinctly marked that the line of junction with the common sea water may be traced with the eye. Often one-half the vessel may be perceived floating in the gulf-stream water, while the other half is in the common water of the sea, so sharp is the line, and the want of affinity between these waters; and such, too, the reluctance, so to speak, on the part of those of the gulf-stream to mingle with the common water of the sea. In addition to this there is another peculiar fact. The fishermen on the coast of Norway are supplied with wood from the tropics by the gulf stream. Think of Arctic fishermen burning upon their hearths the palms of Hayti, the mahogany of Honduras, and the precious woods of Amazon and the Orinoco.

REMINISCENCE.—One of the most thrilling reminiscences of the annals of the American Revolution is recorded of General Peter Muhlenberger, whose ashes repose in the burying ground of the old Trappe church, in Montgomery county, Pennsylvania. When the war broke out, Muhlenberg was the rector of a Protestant Episcopal church in Dunmore county, Virginia. On a Sunday morning he administered the communion of the Lord's Supper to his charge, stating that in the afternoon of that day he would preach a sermon on "The duties men owe to their country." At the appointed time the building was crowded with listeners. The discourse was founded upon the text from Solomon: "There is a time for every purpose and for every work." The sermon burned with a patriotic fire; every sentence and intonation told the speaker's deep earnestness in what he was saying. Pausing a moment at the close of his discourse, he repeated the words of his text, and in tones of thunder exclaimed: "The time to preach is past; the time to fight has come!" and suiting the action to the word, he threw from his shoulders his Episcopal robes and stood before his congregation arrayed in a military uniform. Drumming for recruits commenced on the spot, and it is said that almost every male of suitable age in the house enlisted forthwith.

MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS.—To tell a man to his face to mind his own business would be considered about equal to knocking him down. And yet it is one of the simplest rules of right conduct, and the most useful that mankind can adopt in their intercourse with each other. There is a great deal of the Paul Pry spirit in the human heart, or wonderful inquisitiveness in regard to the personal and private affairs of friends and neighbors. This spirit makes more mischief in the community than almost any other cause, and creates more malice, envy and jealousy than can be overcome in a century. Let every man and woman mind their own business, and there will not be half the trouble in the world that there is at present.

LADIES, would you not be wiser, and would not your friends be happier, should you think less and talk less about dress? Some ladies wear out their mind more than they wear out the dresses they think about.

FRIENDSHIP is like our shadow, keeping close to us while we walk in the sunshine, but leaving us the instant we cross into the shade.

Afraid to get Married.

There was a laughable occurrence at No 112 Pavonia avenue, last evening—that is laughable to the majority of those present, but somewhat serious to at least one of the party. It appears that a New Yorker, whom we shall call Jim, has been the "steady company" of a lady residing at that place for a considerable time past, and she was anxious that her lover should name the day for making them one flesh, etc., but Jim always appeared bashful and somewhat dumb when the gentle hint was thrown.

Last evening, however, Mr. Jim mustered up courage sufficient to request the lady of the house to send for a minister, and ordered his Mary to prepare herself for the long wished for, on her part, event. In accordance with the desire a reverend gentleman was sent for, and the fact was communicated to Jim that he would be present in short order; and in the meantime Mary arrayed herself in appropriate attire.

The heart of the bridegroom fluttered at the note of preparation, and before the arrival of the minister he expressed regrets at what had been done, and declared that he was not able to go on with the ceremony; but at this moment the minister arrived, and all was excitement. Jim rushed into adjoining room, pulling his expectant bride with him and fastened the door.

Mary begged that he would show himself and go on with the ceremony, but he was inexorable; she pulled him toward the door, and he pulled back, and after a repetition of that performance and much weeping and pleading on the part of the lady, Jim finally opened the door, and the couple appeared in the reception room.

She was all confidence and smiles, ready and anxious to proceed, but poor Jim shook and shivered when his eyes rested upon the minister; and when the latter arose and announced himself ready to proceed, the bridegroom fainted and dropped to the floor as if dead. Restoratives were immediately procured, and after an hour's attention on the part of a couple of doctors and three or four fair ladies, the unfortunate fellow was restored to consciousness.

But he was in no fit condition to perform matrimonial duties, so the minister was dismissed without a fee, and after a short rest Jim departed for his home on the other side of the Hudson. Mary is a lady of spirit, and from what we can understand is ready for some other "steady companion"—Jim having been presented with the "mitten."

OBSERVERS.—Observers may be considered as formed of two classes—the gazers and the gapers—of those who look with an intelligent eye on things around them, and of those who merely stare at them with listless curiosity or indifference. These last are pupils of experience to no purpose. If all life is a schooling, as has been said, then these gapers come into and go out of the great college of the world without taking any degrees.

Perhaps the distinction between ordinary observers and those of a higher order, is nowhere more strikingly exhibited than in their different modes of estimating character. The former take cognizance only of striking features; the latter regard the character in all its parts, even to the most delicate shade of thought and feeling.

The faculty of observing is one susceptible of cultivation more than any other, and there is also an infinite variety of objects on which it may be exercised.

"I can wonder at nothing more," says Bishop Hall, "than how a man can be idle. How numberless are the books which men have written of arts, of tongues. How endless is that volume, which God hath written of the world, where every creature is a letter, every day a new page."

☞"Consumption," says Dio Lewis "is not a disease of the lungs, but one of the system, showing itself in the lungs." He recommends that all local treatment and ordinary panacea be avoided; that the patient, if strong enough, walk two or three times a day, in all kinds of weather; that daily baths be taken with vigorous friction; that plenty of sleep be secured in a well-ventilated room; that the diet consist of plain meats and vegetables, bread, cracked wheat, and oatmeal.

☞"I wish," said the slight and elegant Mrs. Fitzbob to her friend, Mrs. Twigg, whose embonpoint was strikingly handsome—"I wish I had some of your fat, and you some of my lean."—"I'll tell you what is the origin of that wish," replied the fair wit; "you think too much of me, and too little of yourself."

☞An Irishman, with a heavy bundle on his shoulder, riding on the front of a horse car, was asked why he did not set his bundle on the platform.—He replied: "Be Jabers, the horse have enough to drag. I'll carry the bundle."

Republican County Convention.

A Convention of the Union Republicans of Huntingdon county, will be held in the borough of Huntingdon, on TUESDAY, AUGUST 9TH, 1870, at 1 o'clock, p. m.

This Convention will be composed of two delegates from each township, borough, ward and district.

The Republican voters of the county are requested to meet at their respective places of holding elections (except those of the West ward of the borough of Huntingdon, who will hold their election at the new Engine House,) on Saturday, the 6th day of August—in the Townships, between the hours of 3 and 7 o'clock, p. m., and in the Boroughs between the hours of 6 and 9 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to this Convention.

Nominations will be made at the Convention for Congress, State Senate, Assembly, Associate Judge, County Commissioner, Director of the Poor, Jury Commissioners and County Auditor.

WM. LEWIS,
Chairman Republican County Committee.

Give us a Ticket that can be Elected.

Because Mr. Morrell has worked in harmony with Mr. Scott in the distribution of all the patronage at their disposal, the disorganizers say he must be elected again to help Mr. Scott to continue his persecution of all true men who would not help him defeat the party last fall. They have taken good care thus far to see that disorganizers and men willing to obey their disorganizing commands were the only persons receiving their favors. To have a united, successful party in the contest with the Democracy this fall, the whole ticket, from top to bottom, without a single exception, must be new men with clean hands, free from the charge of having assisted in any way in the defeat of the ticket last fall. Will the Convention give the party such a ticket and make its election certain, or will it still further disorganize the party and make defeat certain by forcing men upon the ticket not worthy to receive the support of true party men?

ZUNDSADELGEWEHR is the to us unpronouncable name of the needle gun soon to be used by the Prussians.

WE have never yet supported a ticket at the head of our paper that we did not vote for on the day of the election. Robert, can you say as much?

THE Chinese government is making efforts to prevent the exportation of coolies under contract. If John Chinaman comes at all, let him come on the same footing as "any other man."

IF we are only "professedly" Republican" as some of the disorganizers say, and vote the Republican ticket, are we not giving the Republican party a better support than our neighbors who claim to be deep-dark dyed Republicans and vote to defeat Republican candidates?

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS THINK.—The Hollidaysburg Register says:

"With a union of the party in Huntingdon, and a new man not connected with the troubles there, as is Mr. Morrell, the congressional district will be safe, but should that gentleman force himself upon the people for the third term, defeat will become quite probable, and upon him and his friends will rest the responsibility of that disaster."

The Journal & American is hanging off for another bid—it has not yet promised to do anything this fall further than it will not support under any circumstances a man who was a guerrilla last fall. We will support the ticket whatever it may be, and will try to whip the "organ" into the harness again.

BY appointment of President Grant, Captain C. F. Hall has been chosen commander of an expedition to the Arctic Sea. Captain Hall has had 10 years experience in those regions, and has the necessary frigidity of purpose so to speak, to carry it through. Congress appropriated $50,000 for the expedition, which will move in May next.

A FUNNY POLITICAL "POSISH."—The Johnstown Tribune, Mr. Morrell's organ, supports Mr. Morrell for Congress on one page, and on another it supports James Potts, a Democrat, for the Legislature. That's a convenient politics Mr. Morrell's friends have in Johnstown. His friends mixed things up "just so" in this county last fall, and elected several Democrats.

IT has been suggested that a committee be appointed to wait on "Dad" Lewis to ascertain to what part (if any) of the Republican party he belongs.—Cremer's Republican.

A question easily answered. We belong to that part of the Republican party that includes all Republicans who support party nominations, and you belong to that part of a party known as the guerilla and disorganizing faction, and supporters of Democrats when disappointed in getting control of nominating conventions.

Success.

The success of the Republican ticket in this county and districts next fall, depends greatly upon the choice to be made by the conferees as to who shall be at the head. We have no State officers to elect, but we have a Congressman, two Senators, two Legislators, and county officers. Now, shall we have a man at the head of the ticket who is objectionable to a large number of the Republican voters, or shall we have a man against whom there are no charges, and about whom there are no suspicions? Let Mr. D. J. Morrell be nominated, and we believe, and firmly believe, that the prejudice which exists against him in this, his own and the other counties, will result in his defeat, and secure the election of a Democrat. His appointments and affiliations (of and with the "guerrillas") in this county, and his course on a local question in his own county, lead us to entertain this belief. He is objectionable here and he is objectionable at his own home, and we can not see why any Republican who desires to see his party successful will persist in presenting his claims as a candidate, when he knows there is such opposition against him.

Mr. Morrell has been long enough before the people of this district to have tested the sense of the voters, and we think he should note the "signs of the times" and withdraw in favor of a new man—one who has not such a load of responsibility and objection to carry. We want to see the Republican ticket overwhelmingly successful next fall, and it is for this reason we at this time object to Mr. Morrell as a candidate. If it was merely a question of ability and fitness, we would utter not a word against his nomination; but when we consider what it requires to restore the wonted Republican strength and majority in this county, and satisfy the mass of the voters, we must urge the selection of a new man—one to head the ticket that shall insure its success.

THE men in this county who are active in the support of Mr. Morrell for a third term, were, without a single exception, active disorganizers last year to defeat the regularly nominated Republican ticket. They are for Mr. Morrell not because he is a good tariff man, but because he has kept them or their friends in all the offices in the county at his disposal. The time was when nominations in the county and districts were as good as elections, but that time is not now, with leading unrepentant disorganizers as the nominees—disorganizers who worked (with "aid and comfort" from Mr. Morrell,) and did succeed in defeating as good Republicans as were ever nominated in the county.

With Cremer's guerrilla Republican as Mr. Morrell's organ, he cannot expect the party to give him a support necessary to secure his election. That paper and its friends will not support nominees this fall if they were active supporters of the regularly nominated ticket last year, then how can it be expected that those who were true last fall will support unrepentant disorganizers or their friends if nominated this fall.

UNTIL the nomination is made by the Republican party of the county of a candidate for Congress, we have an equal right with every other voter, to dictate who should and who should not be nominated. The guerilla organ and the disorganizers generally say Mr. Morrell must be nominated. We say with the men who could not be influenced last fall to oppose the regularly nominated ticket that to nominate Mr. Morrell for a third term would be inviting defeat, not only on the Congressional ticket, but also on the Senatorial, Legislative and County tickets.

The delegates to be elected on Saturday next should come to the convention determined not to be influenced by men who last fall deceived hundreds of honest Republican voters into the support of guerrilla and Democratic candidates for the purpose of defeating good Republican nominees. If the guerrillaism of last fall should be successful in forcing Mr. Morrell again upon the ticket, and defeat follows, the responsibility will rest with the majority of the Convention.

WHAT would Republicans think if the Monitor should advocate the nomination of Mr. Morrell? The support of Cremer's guerrilla Republican is about as damaging to Mr. Morrell as the support of the Monitor would be. Both papers worked together to defeat the regular Republican ticket last fall. Mr. Morrell must not expect that guerrilla influence will be strong enough to give him the party vote in this county. No man who was a disorganizer last year, or gave them "aid and comfort" can expect to receive a full party vote at the next election.—The truth, damaging as it is, may as well be made public now as hereafter. We intend to support any ticket put up, but we are not the voters—they, we feel sure, will retaliate if an opportunity is forced upon them this fall.

MR. MORRELL has written a letter to some of the Blair county politicians, informing them that he will accept a nomination for a third term. We don't think he will be troubled in that way if the Republican party of the district want to be sure of success at the polls.

Champion Guerrilla and Corruptionist—The "Organ" on the War-path.

The notorious editor of the Journal & American has again commenced an attack upon us and others, charging treachery to party, guerrillaism, &c. This famous organ-grinder has hardly become settled in his new position with the Republican party, and even now will not agree to support the ticket that may be nominated by the coming Convention. Only a few months ago we find him in full council and high standing with the disorganizers. He furnished Mr. Cloyd's card as an independent candidate, followed it up with an editorial, and advised him to offer the Monitor one hundred dollars worth of patronage for its support, and furnished names to chairman Logan for his committee who would be faithful to the work of guerrillaism. The guerrilla ball was thus and then set in motion. The organ grinder now begins to whine for eight hundred dollars. The price was thought exhorbitant, a parley was held, and before definite arrangements could be made, Robert, somehow or other got a new light, pounced upon his former associates, and pronounced his own work an outrage upon the Republican party. This paragon of honesty and consistency(?) should at least have the decency to keep his mouth shut in this community, and cease boasting about his organ and fidelity to party. For further particulars see Mr. Cremer and his Republican.

ALL Mr. Morrell's hounds in the district, controlling the columns of newspapers, are just now giving us particular attention because we think and say that their master is not the man that should be put forward again as the Republican candidate. We have been in politics too long to be disturbed by such a pack. They all hold offices under Mr. Morrell and Mr. Scott, and of course they feel that their offices must be paid for even should the nomination of Mr. Morrell defeat the party in the district for Congress, the Senate, Assembly, and county offices. Men who can be made mere tools of to advance the interests of individuals to the great injury of the party are not worthy the confidence of the people.

ROBERT is a funny fellow, or rather he has got the Jour. & Amer. in a funny "posish." In one issue of that paper he says it is "the organ of the entire party"—in another he says it will not support a ticket nominated by the party convention if any who have acted as guerrillas should be placed in nomination. We have always been of the opinion that a County Convention was the party speaking through its representatives, and to bolt the action of a Convention would be bolting the action of the party. The Journal & American has certainly read itself out—it has no party—no fractional part of a party—nothing but Robert, John and the Devil.

The Globe professes to be a Republican paper—but—the politics of the Globe—what are its politics? That's what bothers us!—Cremer's Republican.

Our politics wouldn't bother you in the least if you were not a guerrilla.—We have supported, and still support, Republicans for all the offices—you have supported Democrats within a year for the best offices in the county. Our politics is the support of Republican nominees—your politics is the support of Democrats. Your politics is considerably mixed—you claim to be a Republican, and yet you work to disorganize the party and help to elect Democrats to office. Sich politics we could find in a hog-pen.

ROBERT of the Journal & American seems to think (or says so at least,) that we could be bought with an X to support Mr. Morrell. Robert don't know as well as Mr. Morrell does or he would not think so. We never said of Morrell what Robert has said because he could not get the office he wanted, and then get down in the dirt and accept "a census taker." We supported Mr. Morrell for Governor until the district instructed us, as delegate to the State Convention, for Gov. Geary.—We may be for Mr. Morrell for Governor again, but just now we are in favor of him taking a back seat that the party may have a new man for Congress to lead it to victory.

THE Johnstown Tribune and other craft did not look very closely at the N. Y. Tribune, Pittsburgh Commercial, and a host of other Republican papers, when they allege that they saw nothing in them against the doings of Congress. For our part, we have not yet been impressed with the foreign idea that "the King can do no wrong;" nor do we believe that Congress is "infallible."

CREMER says we are a Hyena. No doubt he has discovered that he stirred up a kind of animal he was not in pursuit of. When he started out to play guerrilla he thought he would have everything his own way as it used to be with him many years ago when the sorrel horse and locust corner were the political institutions of the day.

CREMER says we were black balled by the White Man's party. He knew he was lying when he wrote the item. We never made application to be admitted into the organization, but we would sooner be a member of it than take Cremer's chance of getting to Heaven.

☞ Two or three papers in the interest of Mr. Morrell in this district question our Republicanism because we have said that the Republican press and Republicans generally are not satisfied with the work of a Republican Congress. In reply to our remarks the interested papers say that Congress has reduced taxation some millions of dollars. The New York Tribune, a good Republican journal, points out where the taxes were reduced. The Tribune says:

Here, for example, is a list of some important interests on which Congress has abolished the tax: The gross receipts for passenger traffic of Railroad Companies, Steamships, Canal Companies, Stage Companies, and Ferry Companies, Lotteries, Express Companies, Telegraph Companies, Theaters, Circuses, Operas, Museums, and other shows; premiums by Fire, Marine, and Life Insurance Companies; also, banker's capital and broker's sales. The revelation of the power of the lobby contained in Mr. Schenck's brief speech will astonish those who thought themselves familiar with Congressional corruption. Wall-street bankers and brokers, lottery dealers, and theatre men, have been the agents who influenced the votes of House and Senate. The bankers and brokers made war against the taxes on their sales, and were successful with the Senate in having them thrown out. "Hereafter," as Mr. Schenck explained, "all Wall street operations will be free from any burden whatever, and a source of revenue from which millions have been and might be obtained, without interfering with any of the fair, legitimate industry of the country, has been swept away." The lottery agents and theater men joined forces with the brokers, and with them succeeded in having the taxes on their gross receipts and special licenses abolished. Mr. Schenck did not, however, explain the influence which continued the oppressive Income Tax upon the industrious working classes, while these others upon wealthy and doubtful interests were relieved.

CREMER'S Republican is not working for Mr. Morrell for nothing. It must work or Mr. Cremer's son might lose the fat office he received from Mr. Morrell and Mr. Scott. If the office was taken from Mr. Cremer, he would be as ready to defeat Mr. Morrell as he was last year to defeat nominees of the party because the party would not give him the nomination for Prothonotary. It pays Cremer to work for the re-nomination of Mr. Morrell, and for the success of Democrats over Republicans who despise his guerrillaism.

THAT'S WHAT DID IT.—The Journal & American of this week comes out heavy for Mr. Morrell. We have before us a letter envelope dated Johnstown, July 25th, franked "D. J. Morrell, M. C," and directed to "John A. Nash, Esq., editor Journal, Huntingdon, Pa." The contents certainly were heavy enough to bring that paper out to the "stand point" this week.—That's what did it. Was it more than an X, or only a promise?

LATEST NEWS.—No fight yet in Europe. The French are preparing to evacuate Rome.——The steamboat Silver Spray, from New Orleans, exploded her boiler near Memphis, on the 1st. and 26 persons were burned or drowned, and many injured.

WHY is it that the Johnstown Tribune profers to have Mr Morrell towed into position by a Democrat this year? It wasn't so in former campaigns?

Some jealous editors are poking fun at Horace Greeley for writing what he knows about farming. We'll bet none of those fellows ever handled a spade, while H. G. has always "hoed his own row," like a man.

It is now reported that Spruce Creek will not be the terminus of the Lewisburg Railroad, but will be Tyrone. We hope it isn't true. More energy is wanted in that as well as other parts of our county.

The State Teachers' Convention will convene at Lancaster on the 8th August. Teachers desiring to attend the convention, in order to secure excursion tickets, must address (stamp enclosed) C. H. Harding, Ticket Agent, 1223 Oxford Street, Philadelphia, who will forward them an order for the same. Application should state the name of the person using each order and the railroad stations between which the ticket is to be issued.

TAX ON RECEIPTS, &c.—A number of our cotemporaries we find have published as a fact that stamps on receipts are no longer required, that tax having been repealed in the new law.—For the benefit of our readers we publish the section of the new bill. It will be seen the repeal does not take effect until October:

Section 4. And be it further enacted, That on and after the first day of October, eighteen hundred and seventy, the stamp tax imposed in schedule B on promissory notes for a less sum than one hundred dollars, and on receipts for any sum of money, or for the payment of any debt, and the stamp tax imposed in schedule C on canned and preserved fish, be, and the same are hereby, repealed. And no stamp shall be required upon the transfer or assignment of a mortgage where it or the instrument it secures has been once duly stamped. And the proprietor or proprietors of articles named in said schedule C, who shall furnish his or their own die or design for stamps to be used especially for his or their own proprietary articles, shall be allowed the following commissions namely:

On amounts purchased at one time of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, five per cent; and on amounts of five hundred dollars, ten per cent on the whole amount purchased; Provided, that lucifer or friction matches, and cigar lights, and wax tapers, may be removed from the place of manufacture for export to a foreign country without payment of tax, or affixing stamps thereto, under such rules and regulations as Commissioner of Internal Revenue may prescribe; and all provisions of existing laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

THUNDER STORMS.—An unusual number of accidents have occurred the present summer, in different parts of the country, from lightning. The safest situation during a thunder-storm is the basement; for when a person is below the surface of the earth, the lightning must strike it before it can reach him, and will in all probability be expended in it. Dr. Franklin advised persons apprehensive of lightning to sit in the middle of a room, not under a metal lustre, or any conductor, and to lay their feet upon another chair. It will still be safer, he said, to lay two or three beds or mattresses in the middle of the room, and folding them double, to place chairs upon them. Persons in the field should prefer open parts to the vicinity of trees, &c. The distance of a thunder-storm, and consequently the danger, is easily estimated. As light travels at the rate of 192,000 miles in a second, its effects may be considered as instantaneous within any moderate distance. Sound, on the contrary, is transmitted only at the rate of 1,142 feet, or about 380 yds. in a second. By accurately observing therefore the time that intervenes between the flash and the noise of the thunder which follows it, a very near calculation may be made of its distance, and there is no better means of removing apprehensions.

CALAMITY.—On Monday morning last a direful calamity occurred in this place. R. A. Terrier, a middle-aged citizen of this place, was crossing a street when a horse came upon him and kicked him in the head, killing him almost instantly. The blood spurted from his nose and throat, and made a pool that was frightful to look upon. The worst of it was he was allowed to remain on the public thoroughfare, all day, where the scorching rays of the sun soon commenced to decompose his body. We could not believe there was so much inhumanity in the people of Huntingdon had not our own eyes substantiated the fact.—Nobody knew him, apparently, and he will be left unwept, unmourned and graveless.

OFFICERS.—The following officers of the Young Men's Christian Association of this place have been elected for the ensuing six months from August 1st:

NOTICE to Stockholders of the Huntingdon Building and Loan Association.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 26th day of July last, the Secretary was directed to give notice in the newspapers published in Huntingdon, that hereafter no dues, interest or premiums will be received after 5 o'clock, P. M of the third Tuesday of each month, and that fines will be imposed according to Article 1st of the By Laws of the Association.

P. M. LYTLE, Secretary.

☞ Everybody likes what they know to be good, and especially when it is made at home; so those who have tried Luke Reilly's Bread and Cakes are loud in their praises of those articles. We invite our people to prove our assertions by trying them; but if our tastes don't differ too much, they will be as much pleased with his baking as we have been.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Henry Shafer, a resident of Mount Union, this county, was killed on the railroad at that place on Thursday last. He was crossing the track, and while trying to avoid one train, he was struck by the Emigrant train, and injured so badly that he died in a short time.

HORSE STOLEN.—A horse belonging to Mr. J. Murray Simpson, was stolen from his stable in this place on Monday night a week ago. The horse was found running loose a few days afterwards near Newton Hamilton, and was returned to Mr. Simpson.

☞ The latest shocking demonstration that appeared on our streets was a miss of about seven summers who sported the Grecian bend. We didn't ask her name, but—"as the twig"—O, it's none of our business.

☞ The GLOBE Office is prepared to execute all kinds of Job Printing for the Merchant, Manufacturer, Coal Operator, and other business men, at less rates than the same can be had in the city. Give us a call.

☞ Huntingdon Academy will open again on Monday, August 29th, 1870.

Skillful Management Secures Success.

Success, in all branches of business, to a great extent, depends on the practical knowledge of those who have charge of the management, and details of the business. Any business directed and managed by unskillful men, is a game of chance, with more probability of losing than winning. The laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the minister, the lawyer, the physician, the banker, the merchant, the manufacturer, the politician and statesman, must understand the business engaged in, or incur the probability of failure and disappointment. Nine-tenths of the failures in all branches of business, result from a want of skill, and in ninety-nine cases out of every hundred where success is attained, it can be directly or indirectly attributed to skillful care, and intelligent management. This being the case men should study and understand the business they follow, unless they are anxious for failure or disappointment. They should follow the business they are best qualified to be successful in, and not waste time changing from one to another, or following that which they do not understand. It is better to be a successful mechanic or laborer, than to be an unsuccessful prince or statesman.

A Useful Table.

To aid farmers in arriving at accuracy in ascertaining the amount of land in their different fields under cultivation, the following table is given by an agricultural cotemporary:

5 yards wide by 968 yards long contains one acre.
10 yards wide by 484 yards long contains one acre.
20 yards wide by 242 yards long contains one acre.
40 yards wide by 121 yards long contains one acre.
160 yards wide by 304 yards long contains one acre.
220 feet wide by 168 feet long contains one acre.
110 feet wide by 396 feet long contains one acre.
60 feet wide by 726 feet long contains one acre.

☞ There is in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, near this place, a night watchman named Samuel J. Hill, who has held the position for seventeen consecutive years. In this time he has walked 63,375 miles, or the distance of about two and a half times round the earth, and yet not been five miles from home. He has not tasted a drop of intoxicating liquor in that time, never been heard to swear, has not lost a night from sickness in all that time, and his eyesight is as good as ever.—Johnstown Tribune.

TUSCARORA ACADEMY, ACADEMIA, PA.—More than three thousand young men have gone forth from this School, so trained in all the branches of scholarship, as to enable many of them to reflect honor upon themselves, and the Institution at which they received their education.

The large experience and earnestness of the Principals in the cause of education, will contribute much to the successful training of youth entrusted to their care.

ROSADALIS

THE Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and thousand of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore says:

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of all alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of scrofula and secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreeboro' Tennessee, says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtel, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosadalis is sold by John Read and S. S. Smith, Huntingdon, Pa., and Druggists generally.

FRUIT TREES—THE APPLE.

If I were asked to say what single aspect of our economic condition most strikingly and favorably distinguished the people of our Northern States from those of most if not all other countries which I have traversed, I would point at once to the fruit trees which so generally diversify every little as well as larger farm throughout these States, and are quite commonly found even on the petty holdings of the poorer mechanics and workmen in every village and in the suburbs and outskirts of every city. I can recall nothing like it abroad, save in two or three of the least mountainous and most fertile districts of northern Switzerland. Italy has some approach to it in the venerable olive trees which surround or flank many, perhaps most of her farm houses, upholding grapevines as ancient and nearly as large as themselves; but the average New England or Middle States homestead, with its ample Apple orchard and its cluster of Pear, Cherry and Plum trees surrounding its house and dotting or belting its garden, has an air of comfort and modest thrift which I have nowhere else seen fairly equaled. Upland Virginia, and mountainous portions of the States southward of her may in time surpass the most favored regions of the North in the abundance, variety and excellence of their fruits; for the Peach and the Grape find here a congenial climate, while they are grown with difficulty, where they can be grown at all, in the North; but up to this hour, I judge that our country north of the Potomac is better supplied with wholesome and palatable tree fruits than any other portion of the earth's surface of equal or nearly equal area.

On the whole, I deem it a misfortune that our Northern States were so admirably adapted to the Apple and kindred fruit trees that our pioneer forefathers had little more to do than bury the seeds in the ground and wait a few years for the resulting fruit. The soil, formed of decayed trees and their foliage, thickly covered with the ashes of the primitive forest, was as genial as soil could be; while the remaining woods, which still covered seven eighths of the country, shut out or softened the cold winds of Winter and Spring, rendering it less difficult, a century ago, to grow fine peaches in Southern New Hampshire than it now is in Southern New York. Devastating insects were precluded by those great, dense woods from diffusing themselves from orchard to orchard as they now do. Snows fell more heavily and lay longer then than now, protecting the roots from heavy frosts, and keeping back buds and blossoms in Spring, to the signal advantage of the husbandman. I estimate that my apple-trees would bear at least one-third more fruit if I could retard their blossoming a fortnight, so as to avoid the cold rains and cutting winds, often succeeded by frosts, which are apt to pay their unwelcome farewell visits just when my trees are in bloom or when the fruit is forming directly thereafter. Hence I say to every one who shall hereafter set an orchard.—Give it the northward slope of a hill if that be possible. Other things being equal, the orchard which blossoms latest will, in a series of years, yield most fruit, and will be most likely to bear when the Apple crop of your vicinity proves a failure. I do not recommend storing ice to plant or bury under the trees in April, for that involves too much labor and expense; yet I have no doubt that even that has been and sometimes might be done with profit. In the average, however, I judge that it would not pay.

In locating and setting an orchard, the very first consideration is thorough drainage. Nothing short of a destructive fire can be more injurious to an apple-tree than compelling it to stand throughout Winter and Spring in sour, stagnant water. Barrenness, dead branches, and premature general decay, are the natural and righteous consequences of such crying abuse. There are many reasons for choosing sloping or broken ground for an apple-orchard, whereof comparative exemption from frost and natural facility of drainage are the most obvious. A level field, thoroughly underdrained to-day, may, through neglect and the mischiefs wrought by burrowing animals, have become little better than a morass thirty years hence; but an orchard set on a tolerably steep hillside is reasonably secure against wet feet to the close of its natural life.

A gravelly or sandy loam is generally preferred for orchards; yet I have known them to flourish and bear generously on heavy clay. Whoever has a gravelly field will wisely prefer this for Apples not merely to clay but to sand as well.

And, while many young orchards have doubtless been injured by immoderate applications of rank, green manures, I doubt that any man has ever yet bestowed too much care and expence on the preperation of his ground for fruit-trees. Where ridges or plateaus of fast stone do not forbid, I would say, turn over the soil to a depth of at least fifteen inches with a large plow and a strong team; then lift and pulverize the subsoil to a depth of not less than nine inches; apply all the wood ashes you can get with one thousand bushels of Marl if you are in a Marl region; if not, use instead from thirty to fifty bushels of quick Lime (oyster-shell, if that is to be had) with one hundred loads per acre of Swamp Muck which has lain a year on dry upland, baking in the sun and wind, and now you may think of setting your trees. If your soil was rich Western prairie or Middle State garden to begin with, you can dispense with all these fertilizers; yet I doubt that there is an acre of Western prairie that would not be improved by the Lime or (perhaps better still) a smaller quantity of refuse Salt from a packing house or meat-retailing grocery.—There are not many farms that would not repay the application of five bushels per acre of refuse Salt at twenty-five cents per bushel.

Your trees once set—(and he who sets twenty trees per day as they should be set, with each root in its natural position, and the earth pressed firmly around its trunk, but no higher than as it originally grew, is a faithful, efficient worker), I would cultivate the land (for the trees' sake), growing crops successively of Ruta Bagas, Carrots, Beets, and early Potatoes, but no grain whatever for six or seven years, disturbing the roots of the trees as little as may be, and guarding their trunks from tug, or trace, or whiffletree, by three stakes set firmly in the ground about each tree, not so near it as to preclude constant cultivation with the hoe inside as well as outside of the stakes, so as to let no weed mature in the field. Apply from year to year well-rotted compost to the field in quantity sufficient fully to counterbalance the annual abstraction by your crops. Make it a law inflexible and relentless that no animal shall be let into this orchard to forage, or for any purpose whatever but to draw on manures, to till the soil, and to draw away the crops. Thus until the first blossoms begin to appear on the trees; then lay down to grass without grain, unless it be a crop of Rye or Oats to be cut and carried off for feed when not more than half grown, leaving the ground to the young grass. Let the grass be mowed for the next two or three years, and thenceforward devote it to the pasturage of Swine, running over it with a scythe once or twice each Summer to clear it of weeds, and taking out the swine a few days before beginning to gather the Apples, but putting them back again the day after the harvest is completed. Let the swine be sufficiently numerous and hungry to eat every apple that falls within a few hours after it is dropped, and to insure their rooting out every grub or worm that burrows in the earth beneath the trees, ready to spring up and apply himself to mischief at the very season when you could best excuse his absence. I do not command this as all, or nearly all, that should be done in resistance to the pest of insect ravage; but I begin with the Hog as the orchardist's readiest, cheapest, most effective ally or servitor in the warfare he is doomed unceasingly to wage against the spoilers of his heritage. I will indicate some further defensive enginery in my next.

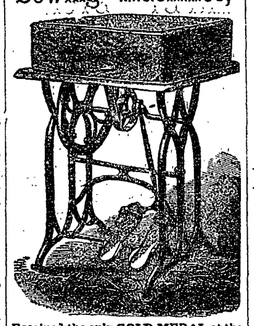
WHEELER & WILSON'S
HIGHEST PREMIUM
LOCK STITCH
Sewing Machines,



Received the only GOLD MEDAL at the PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen and cotton goods, with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The qualities which recommend them are:
1. Beauty and excellence of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel.
3. Economy of Thread.
4. Attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

Instructions free to all. Machines kept in repair one year free of charge.

Authorized WAR CLAIM AGENCY
HUNTINGDON, PA.

SOLDIERS' HEIRS, ATTENTION!

The act of Congress approved March 2, 1867, gives to Heirs of Soldiers who died prisoners of war, for the time the soldier was so held a prisoner, at the rate of twenty-five cents per day, to be paid in the following order: 1st. To the widow, if unmarried; 2d. To the children: 3d. To the parents, to both jointly if they are living, if either is dead, to the survivor; 4th. To the brothers and sisters.

COMMUTATION FOR RATIONS,

The act of February 28, 1867, provides for the refunding of the $300 Commutation Money, where the same person was again drafted, and was required to enter the service or furnish a substitute.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS.

The act of March 2, 1867, also makes provisions for the payment of the

to such soldiers as have accidentally lost their discharges

All persons having any claims under any of the above mentioned Acts, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, can have them promptly collected, by addressing the undersigned. Information and advice cheerfully given to soldiers or their friends, free of charge.

ADDRESS TO THE
NERVOUS AND DEBILITATED.

WHOSE SUFFERINGS HAVE BEEN PROTRACTED FROM HIDDEN CAUSES, AND WHOSE CASES REQUIRE
PROMPT TREATMENT.
TO RENDER EXISTENCE DESIRABLE

If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urine organs, or your kidneys, get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you rest less nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged, they are always polite and pleasant in company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitution, but those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases, from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every form of disease humanity is heir to—and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

DISEASES OF THESE ORGANS REQUIRE THE USE OF A DIURETIC.

COUGHS, SORE THROAT, ETC.

No medicine or treatment can excel the powerful curative power of
DR. SIMMS'
WHITE PULMONIC BALSAM.

It cures with a rapidity unequalled by any other remedy offered for throat and lung diseases. It is recommended by over 5,000 persons in Wilmington, and hundreds in Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities and communities throughout the country. Mr. Pennington, of Wilmington, Illinois, writes that there is not (with a few exceptions) a family in that city who will be without it if possible to procure it. Such is its popularity wherever it is known—and this popularity arises from the fact that it universally cures all who use it. There is no case of

COUGHS, COLDS, SORE THROAT,
ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CROUP,

BLOOD SPITTING, HOARSENESS, and even Pulmonary Consumption, where the spasm is not broken down with the wear of the disease, or protracted medicine, or inexperienced advice, that this Balsam will not cure if carefully used according to directions. We guarantee it all we represent it be, and invite a trial from the afflicted everywhere. Price 50 cts., Medium size, and $1 for large size bottle. Prepared only by
